Compliance and reporting

CCA application, maintenance and reporting

Client: Industrial bakery

Industry: Food and drink manufacturing

Summary

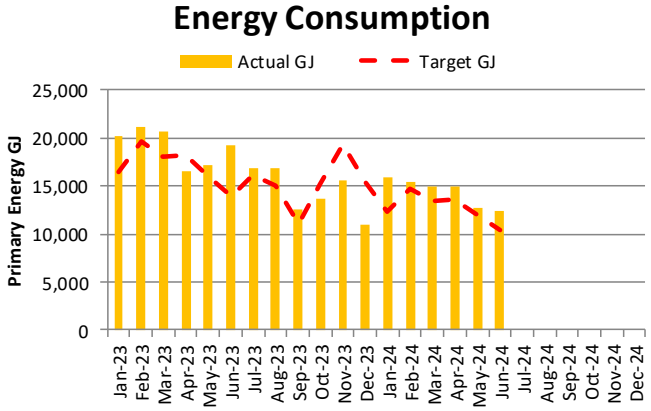
JRP was commissioned to provide CCA support to a large industrial bakery based in the UK. The client needed assistance to help maintain compliance with their agreements, ensure correct climate change levy discounts were claimed and to monitor their performance to their CCA targets on a regular basis.

CCA application

JRP assisted the bakery with an application for a new Climate Change Agreement when they opened a new factory in the Midlands to produce sliced loaves.

JRP managed the whole CCA application process for the client, from initial contact with the Food and Drink Federation, right through to completing and submitting the required application forms. This process included detailing the eligible processes, defining the directly associated activity, compiling the required plans, drawing up process flow diagrams, and carrying out a 70/30 assessment which is method required to identify how much of the total site's energy consumption is eligible for CCL discount.

Once registered, the site achieved Climate Change Levey (CCL) savings of c£80k per year due to their CCA.



Climate Change Levy (CCL) reconciliation

JRP conducted a detailed investigation of the payments made by the bakery. This was conducted on a shared savings basis.

JRP scrutinised the natural gas and electricity invoices for two sites going back 4 years, along with the relevant PP10 & PP11 forms. JRP were able to identify CCL overpayments of c£60k, which were reclaimed on behalf of the client from their utility provider. Through the shared savings agreement on the CCL levy reconciliation, JRP's support for this project incurred effectively no cost to the client.

CCA maintenance and reporting

JRP used its extensive experience of maintaining Climate Change Agreements to assist the bakery. This work included processing invoices, validating CCL payments on invoices, creating and issuing PP10 & PP11 forms, conducting annual 70/30 assessments, maintaining the CCA evidence packs, compiling reporting data, issuing regular monthly reports on agreement performance to target and completing the submissions that are required to be sent to their trade association, the Food and Drink Federation.

Results

The CCA maintenance and reporting support enabled the bakery to save in the region of £300,000 per year through CCL discounts and ensured full compliance with the agreements in the event of an audit.
