

Energy Policy

JRP Solutions (which incorporates The Green Consultancy) recognises that the use of energy for head office and transport purposes is essential for the operation of business activities. JRP Solutions also acknowledges that these activities have detrimental effects on the environment and in a world of finite energy reserves are contributing to the consumption of limited resources. Further to this, energy consumption represents a significant proportion of JRP Solutions costs and it is imperative that these are managed as effectively as possible.

JRP Solutions will work to reduce energy consumption and greenhouse gas emissions associated with our head office and transport energy.

Scope and boundaries

This policy applies to all utilities that are consumed within our head office at Richmond House as well as mileage travelled for business purposes, these include: electricity, gas oil, petrol and diesel. This policy applies to all JRP Solutions and The Green Consultancy employees.
